Room 19

Year 6 and 7 students learned about the amazing resilience of skateboarding girls in Afghanistan, a country where it can be illegal in some parts for girls to ride bikes, choose what they wear and even to go to school. These girls searched for something that hadn't been banned yet – skateboarding! In Room 19 we can describe what resilient behaviour looks like in our lives and learning.

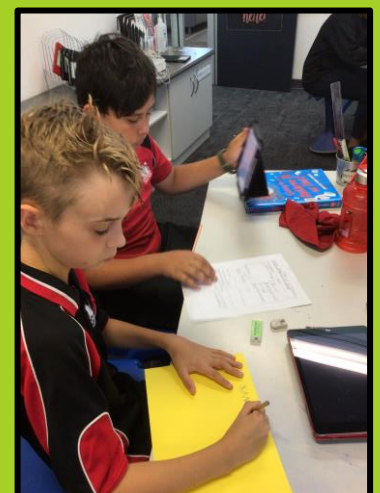

In Room 19 we are curious learners.

We investigated a range of interesting questions, like:

How many hearts does an octopus have? (3 hearts), and

What is xanthophobia? (Fear of the colour yellow)

Our curious minds guide our research of the world around us.
